This endless hole I seem to be stuck within
The absence of light, is so full of sin
And I have lost just about everything
No more life, let the loneliness begin

The shame for all the error of my ways
Will relentlessly hunt me till the end of days
Out of options 'cause I have failed, I have failed
End of game, brings the solitude again

Time and time and time again...
Withered, broken diffident
I need to find some piece of mind
Time and time and time again...
Life will fight me till the end
I need to find some piece of mind

My life is no more than a loosing game
I see myself and I see shame

So, sense of guilt just lives on, lives on
No more time, emptiness is left alone

Time and time and time again...
Withered, broken diffident
I need to find some piece of mind
Time and time and time again...
Life will fight me till the end
I need to find some piece of mind

Time and time and time again...
Withered, broken diffident
I need to find some piece of mind
Time and time and time again...
Life will fight me till the end
I need to find some piece of mind
