andy's house (day 2) crista's got a sixty and I've got all the works you need say's she's gonna lift me pulling pins from the back seat we're leaving the white house going to the wishing well but outside it's getting cold man
outside it's getting cold as hell well I dont want to stay here here beneath the dim light's scream I'm looking past the curtains and I think this might be what I need the bathroom is ready I feel as if they're closing in and so I keep on missing
I keep on missing them

wake up andy
I am leaving
wake up andy
I've got time on my hands
