

Forget Me in June "My Luck"

Visit "My Luck" on MotoLyrics.com

This is the life I know
The sun never seems to shine
There's nowhere else to go
But I keep looking towards the sky
When the falling rain becomes my only friend,
Can't help but think there's more to this life
But I keep my head up high

Here we go, here we go again
You're looking at me like I'm your only friend
The ocean glistens with the timeless age
The rain starts to fall on my face
It seems my luck has run out
It seems this was a lie
I'll fill this glass one more time
It always felt like it was right
Where is my luck tonight?

Oh, I want to hear you sigh
(Please reply, angels are falling from the sky)

Where ever we may go
(We never talk like we never did)
The sun never seems to shine
(Who is this that I'm talking to?)
But I keep looking up I hope
(This looks like the end, so on that bitter note)
Not a soul on our side
(Hold me tight, because in my mind)
But we'll make it out alright
(We die together in a flash of light)
Where was our luck tonight?

We'll break free
I was quick to give you away
Didn't want to feel you so soon
I've lost something I never ever had

Visit Forget Me in June page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

