Rather than an overflowing disgust, or borrowed comfort,
I wish your answer was the blunt behavior

Even if millions of feelings seep through me
You will only realize a small amount of it

Let it out, even if it can't be formed in words,
Towards tomorrow, without hesitation
I want to feel the echo vibrating in my heart
"Hello" Don't cut off your speech

I wish you would understand, It's okay if it is wrong
I want to send this to you now, this phrase, to you..

I will make the flowers bloom on asphalt seeped with tears
I can even tell the night sky about to fall, "Help" Even if tomorrow might not come, I wish to be by your side
I want to show you what I see through these eyes
So please never let your hand go
