There's been a lot of hurtin',
We need a lot of healin',
If somethin' ain't workin',
Can't fight the feelin'.
There's been a lot of talkin',
We need a little listenin',
A bit of soul searchin',
To get back what's missin'.

You know you gotta spread your wings,
Open up your heart and see,
Everywhere, everybody knows
We need a revolution.
Said you gotta spread your wings,
Don't wait for what tomorrow brings,
You and me, we're gonna be
Part of the solution.

It's not about the things you say,
It's about the things you do,
It's all about the love you give
Oh we can change, we can change the world.
Step by step,
Gotta build it back brick by brick,
Oh, with a little time, with a little love,
We can change, we can change the world.
We can change the world.

There's been a lot of violence,
People keepin' quiet,
It's time to break the silence,
Kill them with the kindness.
Seems like we're runnin' out of time,
No one makes it out alive,
With a little hope, with a little faith,
We can change, we can change the world.

You gotta spread your wings,
Open up your heart and see,
Everywhere, everybody knows
We need a revolution.

Said you gotta spread your wings,
Don't wait for what tomorrow brings,
You and me, we're gonna be
Part of the solution.

It's not about the things you say,
It's about the things you do,
It's all about the love you give
Oh we can change, we can change the world.
Step by step,
Gotta build it back brick by brick,
Oh, with a little time, with a little love,
We can change, we can change the world.
We can change the world.
You and I,
Time waits for no one.

It's not about the things you say,
It's about the things you do,
All about the love you gave
And you give it to.

It's not about the things you say,
It's about the things you do,
It's all about the love you give
Oh we can change, we can change the world.
Step by step,
Gotta build it back brick by brick,
Oh, with a little time, with a little love,
We can change, we can change the world.
We can change the world.
You and I,
We can change, we can change the world.

Oh, with a little time, with a little love,
We can change, we can change the world.
