This world is yours for the taking
Over the hills a new dawn is breaking
Quit the smile that you're faking
And don't give up on what you're chasing

Today, we won't be here again
These days, are not coming back, these days

Nobody knows what tomorrow brings
But don't let someone ever cut your wings
A problem solved is a reason to sing
You can be your own King and Queen

Live fast die and young

Your Spring has sprung
Live fast and die young

Today, we won't be here again
These days, are not coming back, these days
Today, we won't be here again
These days, are not coming back, these days

Live fast die and young
Your Spring has sprung
Live fast and die young

Today, we won't be here again
These days, are not coming back, these days
