Once upon a time you lost your way or better yet your left without everything you couldn't find maybe it's time to have open eyes then you'll see changes happen everyday

Maybe a different sky tomorrow
A world unlike the one today were on a collision course with a different world

everytime you go and hide give me a sign that will change your mind just believe everything i'm about to say was just made up in your memory no words will ever explain

Maybe a different sky tomorrow

she says we were we were fine and then the clouds turned to grey another day is passing by all I see is the same old sky

Maybe a different sky tomorrow
