Hey did you know that you passed me your on with another lie could you see all that was me I changed to much for you

I don't know if you wanted me to say all the things that were said I don't know if you wanted to believe all that you were supposed to be

Did you know that you were there anonymously whispering everything led me to think it was said in your eyes and i wish that you could see that your not always everything and i wish that I could be seen more visably

I don't know if you wanted me to say
all the things that were said
I don't know if you wanted to believe
all that you wish you could be

I know you were you were trying your best to hide from the truth that is in front of you so bye to you

Everything you took from me you would have believed i still had more than you if you could see that you always have lived in a great fantasy living in twilight how did you collect while living in extascy where everything is fine why do you like crossing the line your amune to get it right you could have tamed yourself no suprise you failed again you tried to be everything so good day

hey did you hear i'm back to see but your living in another time did you know that you wanted but you never got

I don't know if you wanted me to say
all the things that were said
I don't know if you wanted to believe
all that you wish you could be

I know you were
so bye to you
