Oh my my
Oh my my.
I'm not stupid, but I know myself quite well.
I am the great almighty as far as I can tell.
I'm dragging on this heavy knife like I need it to stay
alive
But maybe I'd be better off alone.
I feel the mass crumbling around me.
This too shall pass.
It's not enough to drown me.
So I shout shout shout into the night
With one full moon I could follow the light
And this too shall pass
Oh my my
Oh my my.
I pick my friends
And I pick my lovers
And I know that it will end
When I pull off all the covers.
I'm dragging on this heavy knife like I need it to stay
alive
But maybe I'd be better off alone.
I feel the mass crumbling around me.
This too shall pass.
It's not enough to drown me.
So I shout shout shout into the night
With one full moon I could follow the light
And this too shall pass...
