They say that we've been under attack
And everybody wonders
How we're gonna fight back
And if we'll last, facing the facts
We're standing all alone
As the world waves on,
At times we start to wonder
Where we really belong
The pressure is on, it's making us strong

We're gonna survive, we're coming alive
They wonder why there's nothing we lack
When we fight back

We fight for what we're going to see
There's too many things that we wanna be
And all that we need is what we believe
We're stepping in stride
And we're holding on
Our hope is a force that'll carry us on
It's more than a song, it's where we belong

We're gonna survive, we're coming alive

They wonder why there's nothing we lack
When we fight back

How we're gonna live
If we don't fight back,
How we're gonna live if we don't love
Breaking down the walls,
Coming in for combat
We're living in a fight we can't give up...

We're gonna survive,
We're coming alive
They wonder why
There's nothing we lack...

We're gonna survive, we're coming alive
They wonder why there's nothing we lack
We're gonna survive, we're coming alive

They wonder why there's nothing we lack
When we fight back...
