

Scale the Summit "Another Chapter"

Visit "Another Chapter" on MotoLyrics.com

Another chapter in my life, another unforgotten face As my dreams are swept aside incomplete without a trace
I am trying to find peace on the street that has no rest Has there ever been a time you've had to settle for second best

Not the winner of the game not the one in the hall of fame
You always new there'd be days like this you feel so low
the time's so slow
The one who strikes out at the plate you hang your head saying it's my fate
The only one who can save you is yourself

Until something happens again and you forget that one day
Can seem to get on with yourself why does it have to be this way
When I can't seem to do anything It's so hard to believe a normal life is easy to achieve

Not the winner of the game not the one in the hall of
fame
You always new there'd be days like this you feel so low
the time's so slow
The one who strikes out at the plate you hang your
head saying it's my fate
The only one who can save you is yourself

Visit Scale the Summit page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.