Intro:

you're like a vision of an angel baby love and desire might disappear but i'll always here for you, forever i'm always moaning to guide you feel the power and the love, the passion i'm always here

Verse 1:

lemmie start from the very beginning i dont care with any shit that's happenin and all the hassles im observin inside the room is all about professionalism i never thought that ya gonna be part of my life's metabolism
i keep on talking you just stare at me and listen and ya tellin me that ya never had this kind of conversation i mellow down cuz im feelin some deeper emotion, slow in motion thinking that it is my own discretion, to pursue but ya givin me a reason to continue ya showin me the feelings that no one else can ever do now im sitting beside you facing the wall telling you how much i adore you how much i love you i wanna be with ya forever, and ever despite of all the walls blocking our way ima fight for you till the end of the day just close your eyes and think and now lets start to fly i'll be your superman, so there's no reason to cry

Chorus:

we had unlive in the place i know where our time has ran out you're my everlasting girl forget the past for the time will come and all our folks said we will meet again

lived in a place i know

Verse 2:

now im thinking of what's gonna happen the situation that we're in is already beyond complication decision was made and people have full of accusations even personal devotion is also under evaluation it aint coo, not even easy to live like a celebrity and always be on the center of a masquerade party hiding and disguising confidently fighting all the controveresys yet still showin some unforgettable affection
now down with expectations 2 days after sensation you came to me crying and whisperin the allegations ya aint sayin goodbye but still you might be hard to find my baby, listen dont cry cuz they're just out of their minds and i am out of ma' mind i got affected, im expecting that ya'll be here on ma' side until the end of time im still holding on to that promise that we'll be together, my whole life i render and live happy ever after

Chorus:
