I've got everything I need
To keep you at my side
A new reason every day
To keep my head up

And this will be the last time
You get to see my face
Till winter's end comes crashing down (comes crashing down)
I never understood what living like this does
Part of me was lost so long ago

If we move with the waves
I'll breathe in the air
We'll walk till the sea is all that we're near
With worn empty hands and tired eyes
Will hope be all we have left

As I keep myself away
I'll stay my course
Words come so hard but you're with me
When I sleep

Keep moving
I've tried so hard
Keep moving
This can't be it
Keep moving
Remind myself it's worth the fight
You will meet my hands
If this takes me
I'll leave my words on the wind

When it all comes down
To a frozen ocean between us
Keep me alive
You're everything that keeps me

I've got more than just pictures to keep you at my side
When distance becomes clear
I'll keep my head up

If you move with the waves
I'll breathe in the air
We'll walk till the sea is all that we're near
With worn empty hands and tired eyes
Will hope be all we have left

Will hope be all we have left
Will hope be all we have left tonight
