Lets leave this place behind
When we finally decide
What it's gonna take make you feel alive (FEEL ALIVE)
What's it gonna take to open up your eyes
To open up your eyes!

It's time to get out of this town
This torture (This torture)
This fear holds you down
Be blessed and move forward
Be silent and sound.

These words don't always come out right
But I feel that we're wasting time
Letting go of each other while still holding tight
All These words don't always come out right
But I feel that we're wasting time
Are we wasting our time?
Are you still holding tight?

It was only fair, to look to the sky
To breathe in the air, to wait in the shadows
With empty hands, no sense of pride
Would you give up if we've all given up
Till the east was ours we draw the lines that divide
Stapled these badges of pain to our side
To our sides!

We've all had our enemies (We're leaving the past behind)
I don't feel like I'm losing sleep (I know you can see it in my eyes)
We've all had our enemies (We're leaving the past behind)
I don't feel like I'm losing sleep (I know you can see it in my eyes)

You can see it in my eyes
You can see it in my... eyes!

These words don't always come out right

But I feel that we're wasting time
Letting go of each other; we're still holding tight
All these words don't always come out right
But I feel that we're wasting time
Are we wasting our time?
Are you still holding tight?

I'll leave my heart there by your bedside
If you swear that your eyes won't stray
To be honest, I've been hoping
To find the words to say

I'll leave my heart there by your bedside
If you swear that your eyes won't stray
And honestly, honestly
I only let go for the sake of you.
