

Charlie Parr "To A Scrapyard Bus Stop"

Visit "To A Scrapyard Bus Stop" on MotoLyrics.com

There's someone out there, Out in the snow
I think that I knew her, long time ago
Homemade outfit, frayed cap and gloves
She is a monument, a tribute cause.

(CHORUS)

It must be a bus stop, there through the snow
The wind whips right through her thin winter coat
(Mm-hmm)

She pulls a cart behind her, there are tracks in the snow
That lead to her possessions, tied up just so.
I know that I knew her, but I can't say how.

Long time before anyway, the way she is now.

There's someone out there, but I can't make her out
Salvation Army shoes on, sole all walked out.
I know that I knew her, we were in love.
Long time gone anyhow, there comes the bus

(CHORUS)

Crowd pushes past her, no one looks twice
She looks through her window, and I catch her eye
She doesn't know me, She looks away.
The bus slowly disappears through the snowy haze.

Visit Charlie Parr page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.