In her eye you will find no suspicion
Guess she don't know you
She gives away everything
She could ever hold on to
I've seen her under the full moon
Shining romance in your eye
But she's only spellbound
In a painted lullaby
And I saw you
You were dancing
Maybe tonight your kiss will turn out to be true
But you were dancing
Dancing with the Geisha
You were dancing with that girl
Now and then you fell obligated
To this wild rose
But you're the one who makes her feel isolated
And her silky sadness shows
Last time I saw her
She was under the half moon
And she couldn't help but wonder
Why some things fade too soon
I saw you- you were dancing
Maybe tonight your kiss will turn out to be true
You were dancing
Dancing with the Geisha
You were dancing with that girl
