Here alone
I wish you were here to hold
Time is moving much too slow without you
When it gets too hard
You're never too far
I bring you to me

I bring you to my senses, senses
I see you when I close my eyes
I feel you on my fingertips

I taste you on my lips

I bring you to senses, senses
I see you everywhere I go
And even when I'm there alone
I'm with you again

I bring you to senses, senses

I bring you to senses, senses

I lay awake
And wish the miles would melt away
I wish I could see your face next to mine
When I can't reach you

I still can feel you

I bring you to me

I bring you to my senses, senses
I see you when I close my eyes

I feel you on my fingertips
I taste you on my lips
I bring you to my senses

When the distance comes between us
I see you, I breathe you
I still feel your touch

When I need you
I bring you to me

I bring you to my senses, senses
I see you when I close my eyes
I feel you on my fingertips
I taste you on my lips

I bring you to senses, senses
I see you everywhere I go
And even when I'm there alone
I'm with you again

I bring you to senses, senses
I bring you to senses, senses
