Every morning watch you walk in sunlight on your skin stand there staring my hand shaking my heart caving in you walk by on the street take my breath from me your out of my reach you'll all that I see painfully beautiful so beautiful it breaks my heart shamefully beautiful and I I can't look away it makes my heart ache your painfully beautiful in the evening I'm there waiting for one look at you see your shadow in the window u come into view I can't think I can't sleep steal my heart from me your out of my league I fall at your feet painfully beautiful so beautiful it breaks my heart shameful beautiful and I, I can't look away it makes my heart ache your painfully beautiful I I would die for one kiss but you don't even know I just your out of my reach your all that I see painfully beautiful so beautiful it breaks my heart shamefully beauty and I I can't look away it makes my heart ache your painfully beautiful your painfully beautiful your painfully beautiful
