All the walls and bridges that you've built
All the memories and daffodils
Don't you know that you just can't fight love?
Love will come to you, like it or not

All the colors of the world I know
Can't express the color of my own
But a simple chord on my old guitar
Tells you right away. Who am I

Love is the sound, I finally found
Love interferes, when nothing is real
Sound is my soul, like true rock & roll
Love in disguise, you still wonder why?

Haven't found the promised streets of gold
But what I found, I love it even more

That's what happens, that's what New York does
Love will come to, come to us.

Love is the sound, I finally found
Love interferes, when nothing is real
Sound is my soul, like true rock & roll
Love in disguise, you still wonder why?

All the wonders of the world I know
Can't express the wonder of my own
But simple stroke on my old guitar
Tells you right away. Who am I

Love is the sound, I finally found
Love interferes, when nothing is real
Sound is my soul, like true rock & roll
Love in disguise, you still wonder why?
