across these streets
echoes your name
like a flame

as it sees your scream
as it hears your sign
passing through this scene erasing all this time

across these fields
it flows
one shine sane

breaking through this scene
wasting all this time

strength's calling your name but this road won't be ridden the same seven shapes can't describe what I've felt with this extra-ray
