One more hour to go today
Then 14 left till I come back
Tomorrow
And 8 of those
IÃfÃ...Ã Ã,ÃI sleep away
Leaves me 6 to relax and enjoy
Such is the life of the hourly worker
EverythingÃfÃ...Ã Ã,Ã divided to hours on a clock
And dollars on the paycheck
Twice a month
And weÃfÃ...Ã Ã,ÃI never be out of here
Off white walls
This black desk top
Or the coffee stained carpet
Of the break room floor
ItÃfÃ...Ã Ã,Ã all I see day in and year out
A never ending cycle of nothing

And itÃfÃ...Ã Ã,Ã killing me.
ItÃfÃ...Ã Ã,Ã tearing my soul out through my eyes
And the life from my heart
I donÃfÃ...Ã Ã,Ã want to die here
Shut down the circuitry
Lights off
Zipper up
Walk out into
The rain
To drive the same roads
That lead me back to here.
