And I will take my chances on you tonight
I'm just asking and hoping that this will turn out right
I think I have found home in her eyes
Her deep blue eyes that I get lost time

As my waves crashed down and as my heart spills out
And as I make my move on you, whoa...
As my words break up, it goes to show how in love I am with you
I think this time we broke through

Life stages we pass how we grow so fast
Like these on the tree finally turned into leaves
I'll see this girl again someday
Why does it have to be this way?
Somethings I'll never understand, understand
