How did I get so lucky
I can't believe it's this good
I never ever thought it would Work out this good but somehow it came out
So perfect.

We'll take this one day at a time
And work at this everyday... is there anything you'd like to say
To me oh baby I can't believe your sitting right next to me
This evening on the bleachers by the field
Our feelings collide
My heart took flight... what a beautiful sight.

No girl, you got me crazy for you
I'm through with my past
Time to start over new
I knew this'll last, this is so true...
From the moment that we first held hands
I knew you would be in my future plans
Together, Forever
Will you please join me for the ride of my life
I can't do it alone, I need you... right by my side

We are the perfect match
I wont turn my back on this
I can't believe this really exist
Lets take our time and remonisse
About our future life and what this will consist of
I know it's there will find true love
We'll take a hold of it and run...
Into the setting sun.
