Ooooh, oohh
Ooooh, oohh

Doesn't see her anymore
And yet she stands in front of him

No communication
Only empty words are spoken

With a memory she
Lingers on and on and on

For a moment she'll just
Close her eyes and drift away

He doesn't see her anymore
He's somehow forgotten what it is
He promised to be there for

But there's something there
That keeps her by his side

Close her eyes
She remembers the passion

Doesn't feel the breath
A kiss
And yet she lies beside him

No imagination
Keeps two steps back
Two steps back

With a memory she
Lingers on and on and on

For a moment she'll just
Close her eyes
Remember when

He doesn't see her anymore
He's somehow forgotten what it is
He promised to be here for

But there's something left
There's something there
That keeps her by his side

Close her eyes
She remembers

She remembers him
She remembers why she came here
From far away
To find her way through
Fairy tales...

He doesn't see her anymore
He's somehow forgotten what it is
He promised to be here for

But there's something there

Something there
There's something stronger
That keeps her hanging on

Close her eyes
And they remember why it is
They promised to be here

Close her eyes

Ooooooh, oooh
Ooooooh, oooh, ooh...
