

The Nightwatchman

"Texas"

Visit "Texas" on MotoLyrics.com

Well I was getting tired just like I was before
The gold was in my eyes and I needed more
So I jumped into my jeans and I fired up my truck
Never thought I'd miss you quite so much
I love you twice as much since I left Texas
I wake up feeling lost and all alone
I love you twice as much since I left Texas
Oh darling won't you please let me go home
Well I played in every bar and every honky tonkin' town
The music just can't wash away my frown
Well the girls that paint their Wranglers on
Try to chase away my blues
But no one could ever take the place you
I love you twice as much since I left Texas
I Wake up feeling lost and all alone
I love you twice as much since I left Texas
Oh, darling won't you please let me go home... go home
Well I crossed the mighty Oklahoma line
I'm leaving all my memories behind
Well it's 50 miles to Tulsa
My watch says five a.m.
I wonder will I ever see you again
I love you twice as much since I left Texas
I wake up feeling lost and all alone
I love you twice as much since I left Texas
Oh darling won't you please let me go home

Visit The Nightwatchman page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.