Far and wide, I see them searching
Day and night, spend their lives looking for
Just a little bit more

Opened the sky, pull down the moon,
Aimed for the dark, looking for the truth
But for me, all I know is

It's always been you, love
It's always been you, my love

(hmmm, hmmm)

I'll be yours until the sun dies
Til the stars fall through the blue sky
All my days, love for a lifetime

You'll be the tide, I'll be the sea
The rise or fall brings you home to me
Brings you home to me

It's always been you, love
It's always been you, my love
It's always been you, love
It's always been, always been you, love

(Instrumental bridge)

We opened the sky, pulled down the moon
We saw through the dark, and we found the truth
I found you

It's always been you, love
It's always been you, my love
