oh now it's time to go, what happed I don't want to know, you're face seems so far away the sky might seem so blue but the truth is I'm missing you it's a place i don't want to stay

Serenity doesn't live in me it's not over today wash away what the feeling say images of you i close my eyes, i realize, lies burning inside afraid to speak,' cause it might leak, secrets from you you might think that now I'm free but your voice still lives in me my screams for help don't reach your ears i see now your decision is made I'm not in your life but I'm in your way I've been giving my best for all these years
