Boredom has entered this room tonight filled with vengeance from our fight Adultery formed in a digital shape the spell has been casted on me Changing the views of myself and human nature I am stuck with this synthetic pleasure and I cant find my antidote the story of the weak its me and it is you

Normal has become absurdity lets get offended by it mock the words that youve been told free from the plague considered as gold though i hate the fact that by this im sold and the damage will always be untold I swear I wont give in to it I swear I wont jump into more graves

Can you hear the sound of the undone begging for yet another trap to free themselves from our broken world

We dont need your company We dont feel your empathy

I got my heart set on this new breed it comes from within Praising the end of this day my broken form of feeling free committing myself to prevent beauty from existing in me still enjoying this hateful rite and the twisted general of my world

Can you hear the sound of the undone running away from freedom
can you hear the sound of the undone digging your way to the underground
