we are children of lusty hell
we are nightmares you can't dispel we live for lust before the dust
we live for lust before the dust we live in the windy shadows outside your bolted windows we wear haunting ghostly faces smoke our weed in secret places
we are children of lusty hell
we live for lust before the dust
we relish our evil pleasures in the darkest corners of night beyond all your legal borders
we are children of lusty hell
we live for lust before the dust satan's the king to whom we sing eternal songs of damnation for us there's no blest salvation
we are children of lusty hell
