The sun never sets
and life never gets old
I am in your debt
for taking the same road

I am in a hole never saw the whole view little did I know you were in the same room

Funny you should say that I could never talk to you before
Funny you should say that
It's funny you're still here at all

Thoughtless I was Almost a lost cause I came back because You gave me what for

Funny you should say that you were always talking to the wall
Funny you should say that
It's funny you're still here at all

It's funny that you said what you said the words you spoke playing in my head and I awoke rising from the dead
It's so strange
My world is rearranged
Boom
I might forget it

It's funny that you said what you said

It's funny that you stuck it out went toe to toe said it like you know And know I know what it's about

The sun never sets
- funny you should say that
and life never gets old
- I'm begining to
I am in you debt
- funny you should say that

the sun never sets
- funny you shoud say that
- I'm begining to
I am in your debt
- funny you should say that

The words you spoke playing with my head
And I awoke rising from the dead

My world has changed blue pillow to red I've rearranged risen from the dead
Now I'm lookin' at what I'm seein' listenin' to what I'm hearin' livin' and almost believin'
