Under another guise I'm sure you'd be a better man
You would have legs and eyes like mine, fingers to touch the land

You could be all I need to be,
You could be all I need to be
You will see

Take away everything but thought you could outrun us all
Gliding from all that you have known fighting to keep control

You could be all I need to be,
You could be all I need to be
You will see

And it's as they say as we stand today
You can rise above, you can rise above
Pick a mind or soul, choose where you belong
You can have it all, you can have it all

And it's as they say as we stand today
You can rise above, you can rise above
Pick a mind or soul, choose where you belong
It all, it all, it all, it all, it all

You could be all I need to be,
You could be all I need to be,
You could be all I need to be,
You could be all I need to be,
You will see
