Wake me from my sleep, wake me up from my sleep,
Press upon my lips as I beg to speak
Roll me from your tongue, roll me from your tongue
Silence as I stand lost within these walls

As you take it all it all again,
And I fight it all it all

Oh watch me there with wonder as you stand on the shore,
This day will stay by my side until I see no more Oh watch me there with wonder as you stand on the
shore,
This day will stay by my side until I see no more

Throw me out to sea, throw me out to sea,
Watch me as I sink trying hard to breathe
Cast me from your past, cast me from your past Drag me through the streets away from all we had

As you take it all it all again,
And I fight it all it all

shore,
This day will stay by my side until I see no more Oh watch me there with wonder as you stand on the
shore,
This day will stay by my side until I see no more

As you take it all it all again,
And I fight it all it all

shore,
This day will stay by my side until I see no more
