Chasing the circles and fighting the cause
It's now we have come for, it's now that we needed.
Inside your pocket, lined with our gold
You hide your intentions and hold our restless souls.
Our restless souls...

But oh we will rise once more,
Ignore those fearful men.
I'll try to regain my strength for now
I can breathe again.

Lost in this moment still bidding our time
We swim for this promise and hold the dark line,
Now with momentum we run with the waves
We're dying to meet you, we're dying to know your name.
To know your name...

And oh we will rise once more,
Ignore those fearful men.
I'll try to regain my strength for now
I can breathe again.

And oh we will rise once more,
Ignore those fearful men.
I'll try to regain my strength for now
I can breathe again.
