Though I left you there sleeping
No I dare not say a word
Silently weeping
Knowing what I heard

What can I say?
I was never good with words
My tongue always got it wrong
Hoping that you knew all along

I love you
I love you
I love you
I love you

Hell I've done all I can
How else can I get this through?
I know you're someone else's
And I'm sure he needs you

When I'm laying my bed
I can say what's on my mind
Let my actions be my words
I'm sure that you heard

I love you
I love you
I love you
I love you
