Just another grey autumn day,
You're the sunshine trying to break through
No, I never imagined,
That my path would lead to you.
The look in your eyes, as they met mine
Seemed to say we're the same, in so many ways
Though we're worlds apart, I will promise you
I won't let you down (x2)
There are so many reasons to keep us apart, but it won't stop me losing my mind or my heart.
What would I give to touch your hand or just feel your skin,
I'd breathe you in.
Could this ever be? You'd be next to me...
No, I won't let you down (x2)
I know myself so well, but I've never been here before
You're just out of my reach, but I will be here
Of that you can be sure,
Can be sure...
Its another grey autumn day,
You're the sunshine trying to break through
I can only imagine, that I'm walking with you
I realize if you were mine, we may fall apart, though you have my heart
There's too many things between you and me
No, I won't let you down (x 9)
