Can't say goodbye

I can't put into words
Just how she made me melt
She molded folded, pasted and cut

His edited heart was my favorite work of art
And it surprised him every day
They way I made him obey

Yeah, made him obey
His edited heart
Yeah, made him obey

I can't see clearly
Through love tinted eyes

My erotic, robotic bedroom lies
Paid off in a blur

For the minute I was let inside her

He can't complain about the strain
Of my relationship games

For the minute I was let inside her
Strain of her relationship games

He can't say goodbye

For the minute I was let inside her

Enough
She molded and folded my heart
Enough
I molded and folded his heart

I can't dream vividly
While nightmares run wild
She locked, blocked and mocked my smile

He's been destroyed

Tears come falling from my trained toy
And with a sigh he can't say why
But he can't

Say goodbye
Goodbye
He can't say goodbye
Goodbye
Can't say goodbye (Enough)
Can't say goodbye (Enough)
Enough
She molded and folded my heart
