Someone made a wish for me today
Blew mercy into the air
In a whisper i could hear them pray
There's hope in the dreams we share

It breathes in me till i can see
That someone still believes in me

I know your heart but not your face
You travel in a state of grace
Where faith is all we have to make it better
Without this love where would i be
A thousand prayers are holding me together

I tried every remedy on earth
But nothing could make me whole
Now i know that life is only worth
What you've got inside your soul

What gives me strength to carry on
Will live long after we are gone

After all is said & done
And all the tears are cried
I know GOD's greatest gift to me
Is that you're at my side...
