I am the igniter destroying all your dreams
I am the deceiver I'll take away everything
The reason why these clouds will burn bright
And the stars will cry out when block the light
Even the sun will weep

When it wakes to find that it's no longer
The bearer of such luminous light
Now sit back and watch, your walls collapse in flames

And this i swear
This was all to see her eyes shine bright
And this I swear
This was to save my pitiful life

I won't try to escape the disaster
That slowly takes over the walls

And our senses engulfed in the flames
I create to try and match
The color of her face

And this i swear
This was all to see her eyes shine bright
And this I swear
This was to save my pitiful life

It was far too much for me so I set this place ablaze
My mind set on the thought of hope and the seduction of change
Now sit back and watch, your walls collapse in flames

And this i swear
This was all to see her eyes shine bright
And this I swear
This was to save my pitiful life
