we're coming for you

my body may be broken but i do not regret the words i've spoken i know again and again i will fail but on my knees i must hail now that my mind is giving up on me my transformation is complete into a vicious monster i was before all these daydreams

came and unlocked my door

the reflection of what i once was
is gone forever
now this disease eats away at my flesh it seems i'm stuck inside this tear away all the imperfections i'll plague everyone in my step this is the rising of the dead

into a vicious monster i was before all these

is gone forever

everyone around me will fall to ashes

into a vicious monster i was before all these
daydreams
