

Arctic Death "Trivial Honesty"

so many days are spent pacing away to me
oh it's an accident?
trivial honesty

lay your pulses on the road lay your wisdom on the road split the difference darling stack promises two by two may i keep this thing away from you?

green
the hall
my original weekend

the order was tall
the closets were speaking i bend under the weight of all this fate and paint my face
my heart is dead

oh split the difference darling
may i keep this thing away from you?

i feel so jaded
i feel so jaded
i feel so wasted
i'm much older, i'm so much older by the way i brought you into this (x3) by the way i brought you inside.
