here we go again inside your head again put the puzzle pieces together so they'll never fit again and ill bet you'll think you've solved it and ill bet you'll think you have it it never goes away: yourself
it hides itself away oh

go and if you cant see that you just have half what you want what you want you wont need yeah you will lie
and they'll understand then you'll let yourself inside your circle
again

press pause lets hope the phone rings die another day from insecurity try another day to dress yourself in infidelity
and ill bet you'll think you've solved it
it never goes away: yourself

yeah you will lie
and they'll understand
then you'll let yourself inside your circle
again

find another way to make it feel alright find another way to make you feel just fine go
show
make things alright

yeah you will lie

then you'll let yourself inside your circle
again
