you eat the flesh from bones the hells that i have left you you keep the best for last and wait for night to come and i watch in darkness as i plan all of what will happen ill search you out until the cancer takes me over shoot me til im dead

strip away my head
and tar and feather everything I've said you never knew your limits you drive it just to kill it you drag me down again

keep it to myself all the things of what had happen i plot the ways to keep you deed beneath the ground and i cry in laughter as i wait to wash the barrel you'll never see the end of all that it could be shake my hand, look away and just breathe in close your eyes pray to god and just fade
close your eyes pray and just breathe in you'll keep it ; your soul you'll keep it

drag!
drag!
me
down
drag!
