When I wanted to be alone, you made me change my mind with a real love When we knew least think needed, we fall in love at the right time
Who would say, who would have ever thought that you would find that person, when less though

Person that much sought, when you never imagine, and he will be the perfec complement,
I dont wanna be alone again.

You are the light of my way, please let us walk together cause if you'r not there I will fall down and never be okey

When you kiss me, I feel like I'm on a direct journey to glory
When you hold me, I am sure will be there always
would find that person, when less though

When I'm away from you, I remember the great moments we have lived, and I feel your scent on my skin
When I sigh, I remember every moment spended with you
When I dream, it happens we still have to spend together
would find that person, when less though
