Lyrics: birgit schuurman

All those smiles, all those kisses in the air
All those laughs, all those eyes that gaze and stare
All those words, all those promises they make Every single smile is fake

Nobody wants to hear you sigh
With a smile upon your face you walk around
Nobody wants to see you cry
So you say it's happiness you found
But it's fake

They don't care about who you really are
They don't feel what you feel they're oh so far
Tell them lies, tell them what they wanna hear
Cause they don't wanna know your fears

Nobody wants to hear you sigh
With a smile upon your face you walk around
Nobody wants to see you cry
So you say it's happiness you found
But it's fake

Why should you try
To have a good conversation, no no
Why should you try
To say just how you feel, when nothing is real
When everything is fake

Nobody wants to hear you sigh
With a smile upon your face you walk around
Nobody wants to see you cry
So you say it's happiness you found
Nobody wants to feel your fears
With a smile upon your face you walk around
Nobody wants to wipe your tears
So you say it's happiness you found
But it's fake
