Lyrics: j. den hengst

Feels like I'm living in a dream
Slowly floating up and down the stream
Watch the people cheering from the shore
Faces I have never seen before
With you by my side everything will be alright

I am lost without your love
And you keep me from losing my mind
I am lost without your love
And I leave all my troubles behind

Everybody's on to something new
I don't care I'll be staying here with you
Never change a winning team they say
Waking up with you still makes my day
With you by my side everything will be alright

You're my lucky card, you're my ace of hearts
You make everything I want come true
If they write my name in the hall of fame
I owe every little bit to you

I am lost without your love
And you keep me from losing my mind
I am lost without your love
And I leave all my troubles behind
