"Born To Be Damned"

Baby I was born with a hook in my hand
And a look in my eye nobody understands
It's no ones fault that I am what I am
But baby just maybe I was born to be damned

I never saw a sight I thought was worth seeing Born outside the light, like darkness was my being
It wasn't long before the song that I would sing
Was the kind of my mind that left their spines shivering

Then I learned that you burn for the sins you have done
But I'd yearned to have turned into what I had become Cuz there's no wrong, there's no right just the darkness and the light
But I could see and fly free in the darkness of the night
