

Bus To Brooklyn "Oh, Serpent"

Visit "Oh, Serpent" on MotoLyrics.com

Verse I

Looks like we've come across a river
A boundary line cast between
Where's Moses to deliver us
To create a path for you and me
Should we cross this by ourselves?
Or should we try to leave?
Maybe we should listen up
And finally take the leap

Chorus

Oh serpent, stop your hissing
Quit spewing out those lies
Since the first time that we listened
You caused all human kind to die

Verse II

Looks like we've found the edge of the world
Theres nothing left for we

Who have traveled all across the earth
Must be time to bury me
Six foot deep and four foot wide
A shallow grave you see
We should hurry up and leave this place
And set our tired souls free

(Repeat Chorus)

Verse III

We all have our choices
Some to live or die
Some people listen to voices
That'd make full grown men cry
Everybody has a path
A direction for their life
So if you hear that serpent calling
Theres no need to run and hide

(Repeat Chorus)

