December finally came
We're almost back to the start
Come baby, now

This is where we decide
To put it all behind
This is where we decide
To put it all behind

And I swear, I heard your name that day
In a song from a sweet little bird
Before I could be sure
He turned

And just like you he flew away
And the memory remained
Just like you it filled the day

So the song's the same
At least that won't change
And these feelings
Rock this light melodies

It's true, just pieces of you
But they sound so nice
If that's alright
Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah

Now after all this time
All that is done
Now that you're gone

This is where we decide
To put it all behind
This is where we decide
To put it all behind

So the song's the same
At least that won't change
And these feelings
Rock this light melodies

It's true, just pieces of you
But they sound so nice
If that's alright
Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah

December finally came
We're almost back to the start
Come baby, now

This is where we decide
To put it all behind
This is where we decide
To put it all behind
