Just one more shot, give her a go
Still busted broke
There's no bankin' on this heart of gold

But she's rarely on my side
If she could be as loyal as the low fuel light
As loyal as the low, low, low

So you left me here
And you left me right on time
Boy, your together's not forever
It's just a little while

So the sunlight gets me high
It's plain to see, boy
The trouble is, the trouble starts with me
The trouble, the trouble

At least this time I've never been more right
About that time I've never been more wrong, oh no
You let me go and I doubt you'll get along
Without my love there's nothing in your heart

That milk and honey land
You dreamed was closer
Than it's ever been

At least this time I've never been more right
About that time I've never been more wrong, oh no
You let me go and I doubt you'll get along
Without my love there's nothing in your heart
