Born and raised in the criminal place Where niggas approach you the same in subliminal ways say our name in vein and you feeling the pain stomped out in plain day while you catching the train see I'm a Chi nigga you can tell by the slang while all these niggas bang I'm out here making a name making a lane
making my change like Obama sayings and I'm from where Obama was stationed back to the basics you gotta face it in the summertime I'll let yo ass taste it
Taste of the Chi Everyday in the Chi just tryna survive, that's how my people play in the Chi you can look in my eyes and see I was made in the Chi I used to go to Miles Davis Academy and the girl faculty would start chasing after me so they made me change more casually gradually then in 6th grade they tried to battle me but I was still the most dopest the flows potent and back in 8th grade I had hoes choking fights by my school getting arrested by cops while niggas thinking its cool I had to let that shit stop drop and roll with me as we breeze through the southside haters talking shit, let it leak through they mouthside cuz niggas be riding round on they lurking shit so you'll never catch me doing all that jerking shit we on that flirting shit on a perfect bitch on some white chicks on our suburban shit I'm from that city where its great to be they here me on every song going hard reppin faithfully

they put they faith in me told me chase the cheese and don't come back around until I taste the cheese so now I rape these beats tryna get my name across and that's word to the black man hanging on my cross I shine like lip gloss bitches take a loss say you love that girl but she in the back getting tossed introduce her team put her on the L then all my niggas run a train she left behind her brain but still that don't change the fact that I'm coming for the game and now my name is embedded in they brain so now I'm on my plan b shit
